PREFACE

H.S.H. Prince Michael of Liechtenstein, Chairman of the Board of Directors Liechtenstein Finance

The Liechtenstein financial centre is committed to the claim “Thinking in Generations”. In line with the financial centre's long-standing tradition, the claim stands for its focus on sustainable wealth preservation. Over the years, the broad service portfolio and high level of expertise have enabled the Liechtenstein financial centre to grow into an internationally established location for wealth management. The country's high degree of economic and political stability and legal security provides a solid foundation for this.

The present geopolitical turmoil emphasises the importance of being able to build trustworthy business relationships with competent partners in a secure environment. Even in Europe, stability and security can no longer be taken for granted; therefore, thinking in and for generations is vital both now and for the future.

As a microstate, Liechtenstein is in many respects dependent on larger countries and more exposed to global events. However, as an export-oriented country, Liechtenstein has embraced this circumstance as an opportunity for strong international networking and cooperation on equal terms. Thanks to its customs union with Switzerland on the one hand and its membership in the European Economic Area on the other, the country has two market access points and is therefore fully integrated into the European economy. Liechtenstein is also represented in key international organisations and joined the International Monetary Fund in 2024.

Last but not least, Liechtenstein's strong commitment to international standards enables financial centre players to develop their core competencies in all wealth-related matters in the interests of their clients, in order to remain a reliable partner for current and future generations even in challenging times.

At the heart of Europe

The microstate of Liechtenstein lies between Austria and Switzerland. The strong industrial sector and financial service providers make a significant contribution to a high gross value added.

Founding

The Principality of Liechtenstein came into being on 23 January 1719 and has existed since then as a sovereign state under the rule of the Princely House of Liechtenstein.

Form of government

The Principality is a constitutional hereditary monarchy on a democratic and parliamentary basis.

The country's supreme executive body consists of the prime minister and four ministers.

25 members of parliament

The Liechtenstein Parliament, the "Landtag", is directly elected by the people.
